Wabeno's 38th Annual Steam-Up Days

Wabeno's Steam-Up Days is being held on July 5th, 6th and 7th at the Firefighter's Grounds in Wabeno. This is a great way to view yesterday's technology, including the Phoenix Steam Hauler seen above. The Phoenix used to keep the Jones Lumber Mill supplied with logs, and took the place of a more expensive logging railroad. Wabeno has kept the old Wisconsin made steamer running through the years, and the sights and sounds are still available to later generations. In addition, there will be a steam-powered sawmill, a working blacksmith shop, many antique tractors and engines plus many other kinds of antique machinery. There are other things to enjoy as well, including the craft show, a logger's breakfast at the Legion Hall on Saturday and Sunday, the parade at noon on Sunday, a kid's tractor pull on Sunday after the parade, Live music on Friday and Saturday nights and Sunday after the parade, plenty of good food, and much more. Come and enjoy a look at the past and the food, music and visiting with fellow attendees.

Managing Deer Farms to Prevent Chronic Wasting Disease in Northern Wisconsin

Chronic Wasting Disease (CWD) is a contagious and fatal neurological disorder affecting deer, elk, and moose, posing a significant threat to wildlife populations and hunting traditions in North America. In northern Wisconsin, the management of deer farms has become a critical strategy in preventing the spread of CWD. CWD is caused by abnormal proteins called prions, which damage the brain and spinal cord of affected animals, leading to severe weight loss, behavioral changes, and eventual death. First identified in captive mule deer in the late 1960s, CWD has since spread to free-ranging and farmed deer populations across North America, including Wisconsin. The disease spreads through direct contact with infected animals or their bodily fluids, and indirectly through contaminated environments. The presence of CWD in Wisconsin has significant ecological and economic implications. It threatens the health of wild deer populations, disrupts ecosystems, and impacts the state's robust hunting industry, which is vital to the local economy. Managing the disease is challenging due to its long incubation period and the difficulty in detecting infected animals early. Thus, proactive measures are essential to control its spread. Managed deer farms, like Wild Rivers Whitetails in Armstrong Creek, play a crucial role in preventing the 4th of July balloon ascension back in 1910

It is 4th of July in 1910 in Crandon! Some guy has showed up with a balloon, presumably to give rides, likely on a rope tether. Those ascending would be able to see their community from a few hundred feet up in the sky. Fortunately, when this was made into a postcard, they put the date on the edge of the balloon.

DNR sets 2024 deer season and harvest goals

MADISON, Wis. – The Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources (DNR) presented the deer harvest quotas and framework for the 2024 Wisconsin deer hunting season to the Wisconsin Natural Resources Board June 26, 2024. The statewide antlerless quota for the 2024 season is 272,837 deer, with 245,245 total bonus antlerless harvest authorizations available for purchase across the state. These authorizations are in addition to the free antlerless harvest authorizations issued in farmland zones, which are not reflected in this total.

These recommendations were formed in partnership with County Deer Advisory Councils and based on public feedback and deer population objectives.

The approved quotas and season frameworks for each county match the recommendations of its respective County Deer Advisory Council, with three exceptions. In Iowa County, the January archery and crossbow season was extended to match surrounding counties, as recommended by the DNR. Additionally, the Natural Resources Board, via amendment, provided 400 antlerless permits for public land hunters in Bayfield and Oneida counties, respectively.

Antlerless harvest opportunities will vary between deer management units based on local deer population levels and management goals. This approach allows for greater harvest opportunities in zones where deer are abundant and more conservative harvests where deer are fewer in number.

For the 2024 season, bonus antlerless harvest authorizations will be available for purchase in all deer management units except Ashland and Iron counties, as recommended by their County Deer Advisory Councils.

Hunters may purchase additional bonus antlerless harvest authorizations online through the Go Wild license portal and at license sales locations starting at 10 a.m. on Monday, Aug. 12. The first three days of bonus sales are management zone-specific, with all remaining permits becoming available on Thursday, Aug. 15.

Hunters can find information regarding deer season structure, quota information and additional hunting resources on the DNR's White-tailed Deer Hunting webpage.

Forest County is listed as having a doe quota of 1,000 bonus tags on public land and 2,200 bonus tags on private land. The tags go on sale on August 12th at 10 a.m.

For Old Times Sake

These girls are having a good time on the north end of Lake Metonga, likely on the dock of the former boat livery. It would be nice to know the names of these young gals, but what we do know is that the picture was in an album from the Lynn Paul/Ada Moe collection. Judging by the swim suits and the dates of other photos in the collection it is about 1910. The girl on the far right appears to be Thelma Moe. One thing that hasn't changed is that young people enjoy swimming in the lakes when summer comes.

Life Jackets Save Lives

As summer approaches in the Upper Midwest, the allure of boating draws many to the picturesque lakes and rivers. However, amidst the excitement, it's crucial to remember the importance of following safe boating guidelines. Safe Boating Week, observed May 18 - 24, is a timely reminder to raise awareness about practices that can make all the difference between a day of enjoyment and potential danger on the water.

"Your biggest piece of safety equipment on a boat is your life jacket," emphasizes Lt. Darren Kuhn, Boating Law Administrator for the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources (DNR).

The legal mandate in both Wisconsin and Michigan requires boats to carry wearable life jackets for every person on board, with larger boats also needing throwable devices. Despite this longstanding law, Lt. Kuhn notes that insufficient life jackets remain a common violation.

"80 percent of boating fatalities nationwide are a result of drowning, making it the number one cause of death in boating accidents," he cautions. "When worn, they're proven to work," he says, urging boaters to wear consistently life jackets rather than just keeping them on board.

Jennifer Doering, Emergency Medicine Physician Assistant with Aspirus Health, echoes Lt. Kuhn's sentiments, adding, "it's important that we all have life jackets available, and not only just available, but we have them there and ready and on, preferably."

In addition to wearing a life jacket, Doering recommends the following proactive safety measures:

- Vigilance around children while swimming, as they can swiftly slip under the water
- Abstinence from alcohol during swimming or boating activities
- Awareness of water depth before jumping or diving.

"Recent changes in weather mean some of the lakes aren't quite as deep as they were previously. It's important to remember to check, especially before diving headfirst," adds Doering, highlighting potential risks such as neck fractures or head injuries.

Additionally, Lt. Kuhn recommends the following precautions:

- Heightened caution during periods of increased boat traffic, particularly on holiday weekends
- Reduced speed, especially in unfamiliar waters or for less experienced boaters
- Avoidance of night boating due to reduced visibility and higher collision risks
- Monitoring weather forecasts and refraining from water activities during storms
- Prohibition of bow riding, or sitting on the front of the boat with feet dangling off, while the boat's motor is running, a practice that can lead to serious propeller injuries
- Abstinence from alcohol, especially when taking prescription medications

"The other thing about alcohol is that people don't realize how it affects people differently on the boat," explains Lt. Kuhn. "Being out in the sun, the wave action, generally not eating a lot while out on the water – all that plays a part in how fast alcohol affects the body."

Both experts stress the importance of education and preparation. Lt. Kuhn encourages boaters to take safety courses and familiarize themselves with boating basics, while Doering underscores the need for planning, designated drivers, and prioritizing safety in all water-related activities.

Death Notices

Kenneth Michael Mihalko of Crandon passed away peacefully at home on June 27, 2024, after a valiant fight with Parkinsons. He was surrounded by his wife and children. He was 78 years old.

Ken was born in Crandon on November 8, 1945. He was the third child of the late Charles and Maude Mihalko. He attended Mole Lake grade school and was a 1963 graduate of Crandon High School. As a young boy, he enjoyed being spoiled by his two sisters Pat and Mary. He grew up in the logging business that his mom and dad owned and began driving a log truck at the age of 14. He hauled logs to Connor Co. Mill.

Ken met his future wife, Sheryl Czarniecki, driving around Lake Metonga one warm summer day. They got married on October 9, 1965. They lived in L'Anse, MI and had their first child, Barry. They later moved to Hiles and had two more children, Steve and Todd. After several years, they were given land by his parents and built their forever home in Crandon. There they had three more children; Shelley, Kristin and Kenneth Jr. (Kenny).

He worked for his parents' business for many years hauling until the tragic death of his brother, Charles Jr. (Sonny). He decided to start his own business skidding for people. After his oldest son, Barry, graduated, he decided to buy a log truck for him to drive. His other two older sons, Steve and Todd worked alongside him in the woods. Ken retired, reluctantly, at the age of 65 and handed over the business to Barry and Steve.

Ken loved having his kids, grandchildren and great-grandchildren come to visit. He loved his family with his whole heart. Together, Ken and Sheryl bought property in Montana and built a cabin with his sons and close friends. He loved going there to hunt and spend time with family. He enjoyed telling his story of when he shot his 5x5 elk and his beloved dog, Rosie, "helped" him get it out of the woods and on his truck. A dear friend, Les Hicks, later helped him get it cleaned and dressed. Anyone who knew Ken, knew his love for John Wayne and he had a room dedicated to him with all his memorabilia.

Ken knew Jesus Christ was his Savior. He and Sheryl talked about it a lot. He was baptized and confirmed at Good Shepherd Lutheran Church.

Ken is survived by his wife, best friend and life partner, Sheryl, his kids; Barry (Ann), Steve (Melissa), Todd, Shelley (Bruce), Kristin (Mike), and Kenny (Missy). His grandchildren; Megan, Cole, Mikayla, Sam, Brian, Randy, Greg, Madeson, Vanessa, Trentin, Ethan, Jacob, Conor, Marissa, Peyton, Brynn and Dane, 17 great grandchildren and his dog, Bailee.

He was welcomed into heaven by his sisters Pat and Mary, knowingly, they are both fighting about who spoils him the most. He will surely be missed by so many people. He touched the hearts of everyone he came in contact with. Being "The Legend" came easy to him.

"Ken, you are the love of my life and I cannot wait to join you one day." -Sheryl

Immediate private family services will be held. A Celebration of Life will be held on August 18, 2024, at the Nashville Town Hall located at 4265 State Highway 55, Crandon, WI 54520 beginning at 12:00 p.m.

Online condolences may be directed to www.weberhillfuneralhome.com

Mark William Piontek, of Wabeno, WI., was called home on June 22, 2024 after his battle with cancer.

Mark was born on May 24, 1958 to the late William and Norene Piontek. He is survived by his brothers Paul Piontek, Bruce Piontek; sisters Ellen Piontek, Michelle (Ron) Olson, and Trink Piontek (Dave Wenninger), along with many nieces and nephews.

He was jack of all trades but settled in to diesel mechanics to earn an income. In his off-time he found the challenge of diagnosing and repairing anything from a toy, automobile, or heavy equipment, a great use of his skills.

In 2022, he decided to retire and returned to northern Wisconsin from the Portland, Oregon area, leaving him time to perfect his cribbage game, attend family gatherings, see old friends, and make new friends.

To Mark, you were never a stranger, just a new person to be friends with.

He enjoyed mushroom picking with brother Paul and a fishing trip to Minnesota with both brothers. His excitement about the new seasons of NASCAR racing or the Green Bay Packers games, and gathering with friends to discuss the finer details of each sport. He also enjoyed Thursday night outings shooting pool, where he would strut his skill and expertise in the game. He enjoyed being retired to the fullest.

Mark will be greatly missed by his family forever more.

No services will be held per Mark's request.

Strict Biosecurity Protocols:
Managed deer farms adhere to rigorous biosecurity protocols to minimize the risk of introducing or spreading CWD. These measures include controlling access to farms, disinfecting equipment and vehicles, and preventing contact between farmed and wild deer. Farms often have perimeter fencing to keep wild deer out and reduce the likelihood of disease transmission.

Regular Testing and Monitoring:
Deer on managed farms undergo regular testing for CWD. This includes routine sampling and testing of both live and deceased animals. Early detection of CWD in farmed deer allows for swift response measures, such as culling infected animals and quarantining affected areas, to prevent further spread.

Controlled Breeding Programs:
Breeding programs on managed deer farms are carefully controlled to reduce the risk of CWD transmission. For example, at Wild Rivers Whitetails they are tissue sampling every deer to find out its breeding value (how resistant that whitetails genetics are) before breeding decisions are made. Farms maintain these detailed records of animal lineage, genetic resistance, and health status, ensuring that only healthy and the most genetically resistant animals are bred. This practice helps to limit the spread of CWD through genetic lines.

Education and Training:
Deer farm operators and staff receive ongoing education and training on CWD prevention and management. This includes staying updated on the latest research, regulations, and best practices.

Collaboration with Wildlife Agencies:
Managed deer farms in northern Wisconsin work closely with state wildlife agencies to align their practices with broader CWD management efforts. This collaboration ensures that farm practices complement state-wide initiatives to monitor and control the disease in both farmed and wild deer populations.

The efforts of managed deer farms in preventing the spread of CWD offer several benefits. They help protect the health of both farmed and wild deer populations, support the state's hunting industry, and contribute to the overall ecological balance. Additionally, these farms provide valuable data on CWD prevalence and transmission, aiding broader research and management efforts.

The cost of implementing and maintaining stringent biosecurity measures can be high, and there is always the risk of human error or lapses in protocol. Moreover, as CWD continues to spread in the wild, the risk of disease transmission to farmed deer remains a constant threat.

Nicolet AARP Chapter 1191

The speaker for the June meeting of the AARP Chapter 1191 in Lakewood was Ron Christensen from the Oconto County Veterans Service Office. Ron Christensen discussed his duties in helping Veterans to obtain benefits from the Veterans Administration for which they are entitled. A major work area for him is helping Veterans on VA disability claims. Many Veterans are not aware of some of the benefits that they may be eligible for or how to apply for them. Ron helps them in that process and the Veterans Administration makes the decision on approval. Several AARP members are Veterans or spouses of Veterans so there was considerable interest from members. Ron Christensen concluded his talk with a flag folding ceremony with help from two Veterans. The Veterans Service Office number is 920-834-6817.

The June AARP social was held at the Red Maple Golf Course in Suring. The chicken and beef slices were delicious. The speaker for the July meeting will be Mike Brown from the US Forest Service.

AARP meetings are social and informative. Meetings are held on the 4th Tuesday of the month at the Lakewood Presbyterian Church starting at 1:30 PM. Contact Janice Tetzlaff Membership Chairperson at 920-323-6734 for information.
